

Health Sector Pre-employment Programme Information for new entrants

Have you ever thought about a job in health care?

Did you know that there are hundreds of possible health care careers that could be your ideal job and you don't always need lots of qualifications to get there? Many people work and complete qualifications at the same time.

The health sector is extremely large and it is expected that it will grow some more over the next 6 years. As it grows, there will be a wide range of job opportunities that could be just right for you.

What does this mean for you?

There are more than 300 different job roles in the health sector, offering excellent opportunities for training and progression once in employment. The best news is that there are entry level roles in direct and support services across the health sector, offering people the chance of a new start or a change of direction.

There may be job opportunities you may not have thought of before, such as:

- Catering Assistant
- Domestic Assistant
- Receptionist
- Porter
- Medical Records Clerk

What can I do?

Find out more about the Health Sector Pre-employment Programme.

It is a 5-8 week programme aimed at increasing your knowledge and skills so that you are ready to apply for jobs in the health sector. Taking part in this programme will help you to identify what health sector employers are looking for, build on your existing skills and experience and learn how to go about finding employment in this growing sector.

Who can apply?

Anyone aged 18 and over who has not been employed for a period of six months or more.

How do I apply?

Speak to your local Jobcentre Plus Advisor and ask for more information.