Skills for Health

SKILLS FOR JUSTICE

*Service Manager, and Trainer
Care Trust*

"Really informative, with hyperlinks to underpinning areas very helpful. Latter sections are useful even in a non-hospital setting. Overall a very useful tool to help make our workforce more aware of the virus."

"I found the Skills for Health COVID-19 course really informative, easy to understand and extremely helpful for me in my role."

*Dental Nurse
Community Dental Services*

*Distance Learning Coordinator
East Kent College Group*

"The Skills for Health COVID-19 course was easily accessed, and made good use of linking government policy and procedures to make things clearer. It was extremely useful."

How useful did you find the Skills for Health COVID-19 Learning Resource?

"The Skills for Health COVID-19 course gives a good understanding about how to deal in any COVID-19 situation - in my practice or for my personal protection."

*Staff Nurse
Camden and Islington NHS Foundation Trust*

*Mental Health Team Lead
Allied care*

"The course was extremely useful. The information provided is very informative for colleagues in both a clinical and non-clinical environment."

"The course was informative and up to date. Covered other areas, including infection control which is most important for prevention and slowing the disease spread."

*Deputy Manager
National Care Organisation*

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Awareness course

Developed by Skills for Health, this free online learning resource references the healthcare environment, however the overall content is suitable for all key workers in the public sector.

It includes infection prevention, recognising signs of coronavirus, and dealing with the immediate needs of someone who is suspected of having the virus.

As the Sector Skills Council for Health, our mission is to ensure the right people, have the right skills, at the right time.

In these unprecedented times, it is imperative our entire public sector workforce have access to the highest quality training to stay safe, continue delivering the best possible service, and save lives.

www.skillsforhealth.org.uk/covid-19-course