

OUR HEALTH HEROES AWARDS

Deadline for Nominations: 14th October 2021

Thinking of making a nomination?

Read our 5 top tips to help you stand out to the judges!

Bevan Brittan

1

Write in full sentences and paragraphs rather than bullet pointing!

The judges want to read the full story and get a sense of the impact your nominee has been making to the healthcare sector and your organisation. Make sure to include the impact of your nominee's activities - What has the result been? e.g. money raised through fundraising or people reached through campaigning.

2

Take your time to read things over and spell/grammar check before submitting!

Make sure you include evidence of the impact of your person's activities, rather than just descriptive words, and ask a colleague to read or spell check your nomination before you hit send. Using words like 'inspirational' or 'passionate' are even better when you can evidence this.

3

Avoid using acronyms!

Whilst we use a lot of acronyms in our work, the judges might not be aware of them all, and it is best to use full words initially, unless the acronym is widely known. Give some context about your nominee, their background, the organisation and what their achievements mean for patients, service users and colleagues.

4

Stick to the required word count and maximise every word!

To stand out, make sure you use all the available word count, as indicated in the nomination form. Nominations which explain the full breadth and depth of the impact the nominee has had will help provide a full story for the judges about just how amazing the person or team are!

5

Read the award criteria in the 'Who is Eligible?' section on the website thoroughly before drafting your nomination!

You can save your nomination form and return at any time to complete it, but it helps to have a thorough read of the criteria first, to start your first draft nomination.
